

Mr. Went-and-Cut-It—Here's Mr. "Gets-It"

The New Plan Corn Cure That's as Sure as the Rising Sun

"Glad to meet you!" said the razor to the corn. "I'll bleed for you!" says the corn to the razor. Razors and corns love each other.

"Why, O Why, Did I Do It? 'Gets-It' for Me After This—If I Live!"

Corns love to be cut, picked, gouged, salved, plastered and jerked out—they grow faster. Mr. and Mrs. Went-and-Cut-It realize it now—they use "Gets-It" instead—it's the wonderful, simple corn-cure that never fails. Stays on. You apply it in two seconds, it drops at once the corn is doomed. Nothing to stick to the stocking or press on the corn. It means good-night to plasters, salves, diggers, rasps and toe-binding. You can wear smaller shoes. Your corns will come right off, "clean as a whistle." Never inflames healthy flesh. The world's biggest-selling corn cure. "Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere. A bottle or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Used in Barre and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by F. G. Russell.

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Bennington is to practice economy this year in order to clear up the bonded debt of $5,000.

Mrs. M. L. Young shot a large hawk at her home in Weybridge while it was on the wing. It measured five feet and five inches from tip to tip.

Col. Ira Reeves, president of Norwich university, gave an address at the meeting of the Congregational churches and ministers of Addison county, held in Ferrisburg May 3 and 4.

Because of several cases of scarlet fever in Poultry the public schools and the Troy conference academy have been closed for an indefinite period. Pupils are not allowed to attend the motion picture shows.

Mr. and Mrs. Moulton A. Taft recently observed their 63d wedding anniversary at their home in Sutton. Mr. Taft was born in that place Feb. 16, 1834, and Mrs. Taft, also a native of Sutton, was born Feb. 4, 1835. Mr. Taft keeps two cows and carries on a farm of 13 acres. Mrs. Taft broke her hip in October, 1914, and has since been confined to a wheel chair.

Because large outlays of money would be necessary to get a sufficient fall of water to make the fish hatchery at Arlington a suitable trout rearing station, the state fish commissioner has ordered its abandonment. The place had been given a thorough trial and had proved unsatisfactory. All the fish on hand there will be distributed to other stations.

While walking in his meadow in North Clarendon Saturday, James Barrett, a farmer, found a huge land turtle, on the shell of which was carved, "J. B. 1872." Immediately Mr. Barrett recalled that in the same field 44 years ago he cut his initials and the date on the back of a tortoise and gave it its liberty. He is sure this must be the same one.

A document which bears the signature of Ethan Allen has been found among papers in Rutland, the paper being a bond in connection with the estate of his brother, Heber Allen of Poultry. Ethan Allen was the surety and Ira Allen the administrator. There is also an inventory of Heber Allen's estate which is of interest in that it enumerates all of the small articles owned by the deceased, even the collar buttons, socks, handkerchiefs and the like.
